

Dr. Karen J. Hendershott

Dr. Hendershott is a breast cancer survivor herself and understands that every woman's experience with breast cancer is unique. As a surgical oncologist, she brings impressive credentials as well as an understanding of the importance of shared decision making.

As the Medical Director for the Breast Program at St. Mary's Hospital in Tucson, she has over 10 years experience in the surgical management of genetic, familial and triple negative breast cancer. She also has a sub-specialty in techniques to maximize cosmetic outcomes and partial breast radiation therapy.

October is Breast Cancer Awareness Month, and Dr. Hendershott will be hosting a Webex Meeting on Wednesday, October 14, 2:00 – 2:45 pm on Breast Cancer in the Time of COVID 19.
